North Koreans Suffer Heavy Losses In Holding Bridgehead

Sharp Attacks On Policies Of Administration

Foreign And Military Policies Assailed By G.O.P. Senators

By FRANK E. ALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The foreign and military policies followed by the administration before the Korean war came under sharp attack today from senate Republicans.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R) Iowa, suggested a investigation to find out what became of the $3 billion dollars spent by the armed services since 1947.

Minority Leader Wherry (R) Neb., asked how much of the 10 million dollars earmarked for Korean aid actually was spent for arms.

Hickenlooper said that congress might well ask what the defense department did with its money, since, he said, we apparently did not have equipment "enough to stop a bandit raid". He said:

"It's enough to make the American people choke."

Another Demand

Wherry coupled his question on Korean aid with a demand to know how long the United States is going to continue to give Marshall plan money to countries which "furnish strategic supplies" to communists in China and elsewhere.

He was referring to England, which he charged has been making booming sales of gasoline and oil to communist China since U. S. companies cut off such sales.

Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., replied to the attacks with a plea. He said the inquiry proposed by Hickenlooper would keep army, navy and air force officials answering questions on Capitol Hill for the next six months or a year. He said:

"An investigation would only disunite the people, but that is what some people would like."

Six Are Cited For Contempt

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(INS)—The house un-American activities committee announced today that six witnesses have been cited for contempt of congress for refusing to answer questions about communism.

Miss Esther M. Tice of Cincinnati was cited today for refusing to say whether she had ever been a member of the Communist party. The five other witnesses were cited Thursday, but the action was made public today. They are:

Clarence Hickey, last identified as a professor at Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute; Pasquale Leonard James Brann, Elizabeth Salsky and Bella Rodman, all of Washington, D. C., and Marcel Scherer of New York.

This brought to 50 the total number of witnesses who have refused to give the committee the information it sought during its hearings on communist activity.

Today is St. Swithin's Day, and according to popular tradition weather conditions of today are supposed to indicate whether there will be wet or dry weather during the next forty day period.

Health Director Richard I. Davis today stated that when property owners neglect to cut weeds on vacant lots, he assigns the city weed cutter to do the job, and failure to pay for the work results in a lien being placed against the property.

Estimate Korean War Will Cost U.S. About Five Billion

By DARREL GARWOOD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Defense officials today estimated the cost of the Korean war at about $5,000,000,000 and declared that it can be wound up successfully within a year.

A new army timetable, it was learned, has set September 15 as the probable date on which a U.S.-South Korean offensive can start rolling northward toward the 38th parallel.

Between now and September 15, a military spokesman conceded, it may be nip and tuck whether America can retain a foothold in Korea. A serious threat is developing to the rail supply line feeding U.S. troops at the front.

About 300,000 To Be Called

The new defense estimate of the war's cost—placed at "between four and five billion dollars" by a top official—appeared to confirm that about 300,000 draftees, volunteers and called-up reserves will be needed.

The usual cost per additional man in military service is $10,000—$3,000,000,000 for 300,000 men. The war has also brought added ammunition and operating costs for troops and crews already in service.

All estimates that can be drawn up at present are based on the assumption that neither Russia nor Communist China will send large forces of their own into the Korean conflict.

Confesses He Shot To Death Two Detectives

CHICAGO, July 15.—(INS)—The confessed slayer of two police detectives was carried through Chicago streets on a stretcher early today to the scenes of the crime, his flight and his capture to reenact the fatal shootings.

Hundreds of curious pedestrians jostled a 50-man police guard for a closer look, residents leaned from windows and passing motorists stopped their cars as 19-year-old Bernie Davis showed how he killed Detectives Edward T. Crowley, 41, and Donald E. McCormick, 43, and fled.

At one point, Davis lay in a stretcher on the deserted sidewalk outside the building where he was captured late yesterday and dictated part of his confession to a court reporter who wrote by the waverling beams of policemen's flashlights.

The policemen—aces of the robbery detail—were shot to death yesterday afternoon in Davis' home where they had gone to question him in connection with a Weirton, W. Va., loan office holdup.

Man Overcome In Fire Early This Morning

Firemen Rescue Man With Difficulty In County Line St. Fire

One man was overcome by smoke and is in a serious condition in the Jameson Memorial hospital, and six others of the family of Mrs. Orpha McConnell, of 705 County Line street, were driven from their home in a spectacular blaze which Fire Chief Herman F. Steinbrink states was of mysterious origin at 3:30 a.m. today.

Damage of around $1,500 resulted from the blaze, which is said to be covered by insurance. Two alarms from Box 312 brought six fire companies to the scene.

Rescued From Room

Second Assistant Fire Chief William E. Bowen and Fireman John Oberleitner, rescued Charles McConnell, aged 22 years, from his room on the second floor of the home, while firemen held the flames in check with blasts from a two and a half-inch line.

McConnell was trapped in his room, when the fire which started on the back porch enveloped the back of the house, burning its way into a second floor kitchen. He was found leaning out the window when firemen arrived at the scene in response to an alarm from Box 312. Assistant Chief Bowen climbed a ladder to rescue McConnell, when he lapsed into unconsciousness.

Fireman Oberleitner, who went to Bowen's assistance. Between the two of them, McConnell was brought to safety, while flames licked about them.

Driven From Home

Also driven from their home by the blaze was Mrs. Orpha McConnell, the owner, who was asleep on the third floor. Dorothy, Carol, and Beverly McConnell, and Mrs. Margaret Moore and infant son, Billy, aged 10 months.

The fire apparently started on the back porch of the home, which was burned off, the fire sweeping up over the roof of the porch and into a second floor kitchen.

The state fire marshal's office was notified of the blaze and is conducting an investigation into the circumstances, as it is reported the fire appeared to be of incendiary origin.

Issue Call For Pre-Induction Physical Test

119 To Be Called Up For Exams In County

Lawrence county's two Selective Service boards, with headquarters in the Greer building, will call 119 men for pre-induction physical examinations within the next few weeks, it was announced today at Harrisburg by Lt. Col. Henry M. Gross, State Selective Service director.

These men will be between the ages of 19 and 25. County quotas have not yet been established on the number of men who will fill the call for 1401 men to be drafted from the state before September 30, Col. Gross stated.

Beaver county will have 217 men examined, Butler county 100, and Mercer county 133.

The local boards have their machinery already set in motion and the matter of notifying the men to be called will take but a short time, board officials state.

House May Take Recess In August

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(INS)—The House of Representatives may take an indefinite recess early in August if the Korean war picture does not worsen.

Both Houses of Congress have virtually abandoned their adjournment goal of Aug. 1, and the Senate is expected to go well beyond that date in order to act on legislation already passed by the House.

A Democratic leader said today that a recess plan for the House is under consideration, but it has not been definitely decided upon.

KILLED IN EXPERIMENT
YORK, Pa., July 15.—(INS)—Ronald Holtzapfel, 16, was killed yesterday when a bomb he was making exploded directly in front of him.

York County Coroner Lester J. Sell said the boy was experimenting with chemicals and explosives in the basement of his home when the blast occurred.

Korean Reds Masquerade In U.S. Army Uniforms

WITH THE U. S. ARMY ON THE KUM FRONT, KOREA, July 15.—(INS)—The North Korean Communist invaders pulled a fresh trick out of their bag today—masquerading themselves in American uniforms, apparently drawn from surplus U. S. Army clothing disposed of in Korea.

The enemy deception was disclosed by an American artilleryman who said Red troops used the disguise to seize a foothold on the south bank of the Kum river northwest of Taejon.

The artilleryman said his company was "alerted when a crowd of Koreans wearing American uniforms streamed downhill toward our flank."

"They shouted the name of our company and asked us please not to shoot," the American gunner related.

"Thought Friendly"
"We thought they were friendly and held our fire until they opened up at short range and overran us."

"There were plenty of American uniforms for the Reds to pick up," Korean market, had been stockpiled by quartermasters of the South Korean Republic's army. It was believed the invading North Koreans found such stockpiles when they overran South Korean cities—principally the national capital of Seoul and then found ways of using them to trick Americans after the U. S. Army forces entered combat in the Korean war.

Both Houses of Congress have virtually abandoned their adjournment goal of Aug. 1, and the Senate is expected to go well beyond that date in order to act on legislation already passed by the House.

Expect Troops To Be Provided By U.N. Nations

By PIERRE J. RUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 15.—(INS)—Authoritative sources indicated today that leading military powers among the U.N. governments will place troop contingents at Gen. MacArthur's disposal for the Korean battle.

The same sources at Lake Success believe that recent statements by some major governments that they are unable to supply ground forces for Korea have been challenged by the second appeal of Secretary General Lie for military assistance.

'Hysteria Buying' Halt Is Urged On Nation In Senate

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(INS)—A halt on "hysteria buying" was urged today in the Senate to prevent the need for rationing of goods and the return of the office of Price Administration.

Key lawmakers said the Korean war does not justify all-out controls at this time but they warned that hysteria could change the picture.

They said this is the time for caution. Sen. Douglas (D) Ill., a member of the Senate Banking Committee, said there is "no intention" on the part of anyone to bring back OPA at this point. He added:

"People invite rationing if they keep on with hysterical buying. Rationing is imposed only to check the greedy groups who otherwise take more than their share."

Only Product of Hysteria
Sen. O'Mahoney (D) Wyo., chairman of the Senate House Economic Committee, indicated much the same line of thought. He said:

"Premature all-out controls in my judgment would be only the product of hysteria and would not serve our main objective, which is the preservation of freedom and peace."

O'Mahoney termed the Communist invasion of Korea an attempt by the Kremlin to "test the firmness of American policy." He said "it is not the beginning of a third world war," he added:

"But it ought to awaken the people of America to the realization that the men in the Kremlin are seeking every opportunity to outmaneuver us. Firmness on our part is essential."

No Reports On Enemy Strength At Bridgehead

River Bank Battle About Twenty Miles From Taejon Base

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, July 16.—(Sunday)—North Korean Communist troops which stormed across the Kum river, some disguised in U. S. Army uniforms, held their bridgehead today in spite of heavy losses from withering American ground fire and strafing by Allied planes.

General Douglas MacArthur in a communique issued at 1:10 a. m. Sunday (8:10 a. m. Saturday PDT) said the latest front reports to his headquarters indicated the Red bridgehead "remained intact."

Strength Not Indicated
The communique said no reports had been received indicating the enemy's strength at the bridgehead on the south bank of the river, within 20 miles of the key South Korean military supply base of Taejon.

Earlier, International News Service Correspondent John Rich reported in a dispatch from the front that "some" Red tanks crossed the shallow Kum late Saturday to

Six Are Killed In Auto Crash

MANSFIELD, O., July 15.—(INS)—Five members of a Cleveland family and a related East Cleveland woman were killed today in an auto-truck collision south of Mansfield.

The dead were identified as: Herman R. Turner, 47, of Cleveland.

His wife, Laura.

Mrs. Turner's sister, Miss Grace Williams, 55, of East Cleveland.

The accident occurred two miles south of Lexington, O., on U. S. Route 42 when a steel-laden tractor-trailer outfit driven by Graddon Hinshaw, 42, of Avon Lake, O., allegedly sideswiped the Turner car.

Witnesses reported the car then hurtled into a ditch and toppled over. Mr. Turner was thrown through the windshield of the car. The others were trapped inside the vehicle and burned to death when its gas tank apparently exploded.

Hinshaw suffered only minor cuts and bruises. He was treated at Mansfield General Hospital and then taken into custody by state highway police.

I hear the moan of perfectionists as they survey the daily score, a dozen hits or a dozen runs several big innings or more. "The ball is wild and it spoils the game" they moan and I have to smile, for the fans still go for the long ball kid, who wallows the pellet a mile. Tight pitching I know is a pleasure to see but when fans lay out some expense to see a game they are hoping to see a ball knocked over the fence. It isn't nice for the pitching crew, but there's this I would like to say, it's the home run hitters the fans adore, it's bright, eighty four today.

NO REPORTS ON ENEMY STRENGTH AT BRIDGEHEAD

strengthen the Communist bridgehead.

MacArthur described the situation in the bridgehead sector as "fluid."

The United Nations supreme commander said no further information was available regarding an American field artillery position overrun by Reds who were described in front dispatches as garbed in American uniforms.

MacArthur declared "moral and combat efficiency" of the gallant American troops "remained excellent despite the necessity of withdrawals and holding actions."

Splendid Air Force Help

He said the Air Force was credited with giving "splendid help" in inflicting heavy losses to enemy troop concentrations and attempted crossings.

The central sector of the roasting battle front was described in the communiqué as "holding" although "limited withdrawals" were made by South Korean troops to higher ground in the Chongju-Korean area about 10 miles north of Taejon.

Troops of the enemy's Fifth Division continued to pound southward along the Tanyang-Yongju axis in the Eastern sector and their Fifteenth Division pushed onward in the Chongju-Mungyong area, pressing their development strike toward Taejon.

After a lengthy lull in enemy air activity, the communiqué said Red planes are operating from captured Kimop airfield near Seoul, fallen Korean capital. Threat of a new power thrust southward toward the Kum was seen in the communiqué disclosure that enemy troop movements were seen in the area.

Shell Enemy Bases

MacArthur reported that Allied warships have "materially improved" the east coast situation by shelling enemy bases. American bombers and fighters continued to strike at Communist communications, concentrations and supply points.

The enemy beachhead on the south bank of the Kum was established after Red assault troops captured a strip of shoreline near Samgyo early Saturday.

MacArthur announced that North Korean vanguard infantry troops of unknown strength, penetrating to a point more than half-way down South Korea, captured their foothold on the Kum's south bank near Samgyo early Saturday.

The successful Red crossing followed the repulse by American troops of an initial Communist crossing Friday to the Kum's south bank at Kungjo, Samgyo, where the enemy established a bridgehead which the Reds then fought to enlarge, lies 20 miles west-northwest of Taejon and two miles southwest of Kungjo.

MacArthur declared that the 24th Infantry Division, supported by U. S. and Australian fighter and bomber planes, was "still continuing" fierce fighting to destroy the enemy bridgehead, "with the final outcome undetermined."

The United Nations supreme commander acknowledged that "an American field artillery position was overrun, but whether men and guns of this unit were able to withdraw was not reported."

"Latest official reports," MacArthur solemnly declared, "indicate a setback but no cause for undue alarm."

COALITION IN FRANCE

It has been evident that the so-called "Third Force" could succeed in establishing a relatively stable government of the center in France only if its three principal components, the Socialists, the Popular Republicans and the Radical Socialists, stuck together.

Refusal of the Socialists to have representation in the cabinets of the last two ministries, those of Georges Bidault and Henri Queuille, led inevitably to their overthrow by the Assembly, opines the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The latest premier in a long succession, Rene Pleven, is a member of a small splinter party, the Democratic Resistance Union, but he has been able, where others have failed, to bring about the return of the Socialists to active participation in Cabinet affairs, insuring a stability that has been absent for many months. A strong factor was his warning to the Assembly that French disunity and French weakness in arms are open invitations to aggression, a telling argument in the present state of the world.

The new government is considerably strengthened by the continuance as foreign minister of Robert Schuman, thus assuring uninterrupted support for the Schuman Plan, and by the appointment to the new post of minister of state for the Council of Europe of one of the leading figures in the Socialist Party, its general secretary, Guy Mollet. In his new capacity, Mollet is expected to strive for a better understanding with Britain's Labor government concerning participation in the Schuman Plan.

SURVIVAL OF TREES IN U. S.

In a number of forestry laboratories efforts are being made to develop a chestnut tree which can survive in American forests. The chestnuts were virtually wiped out early years ago by a blight so deadly and persistent that it is still a waste of time to plant chestnuts in the affected areas. Hopeful results are being obtained by crossing the American chestnut with Chinese and Japanese varieties, which resist the blight.

Meanwhile the foresters face battles to save two other important trees of forest and lawn, the elm and the oak. For some time the elm has been under attack from Dutch elm disease, spreading slowly westward from the east coast.

Wholesale spraying with DDT has been found a useful check, and the elms may yet be saved. A recently discovered blight is assailing the oaks in small but spreading areas of the central states.

While this goes on the giant redwood and big tree of California holds beneath their tough bark some secret of survival. Some of these trees are nearly five hundred years old, and they seem to die of nothing but old age and the injuries inflicted by man. Their freedom from disease probably stems from freedom from insects; even the voracious termite spurns the redwood, which thus has special values for construction. Most tree afflictions are caused by or spread by either insects or the birds which feed on them. We could get along without the insects, but what would forests be without the birds?

MAY BE PLANNING BOLD STROKE

The dispatch of a powerful Marine striking force to Korea has military observers speculating that a bold stroke is planned to shorten the conflict.

This would be an amphibious invasion of Northern Korea to split the Communist army, bulk of which is assumed to be in South Korea, form its arsenal in Manchuria and Russia.

Marines are specialists at invading from the sea and, as commander of the task force heading for the Orient, the corps selected a master at the technique, Brig. Gen. Edward A. Craig. He took leathernecks ashore under fire at Bougainville, Guam, Iwo Jima and the Marianas during the last war.

A thrust at the narrowest point of the Korean Peninsula, where it is only 120 miles wide, might with strong air support pierce to the opposite coast, severing the vital rail and road arteries bearing the supply stream to the powerful Red war machine.

Then the Communist forces could be whittled down from front and rear with air and ground strikes.

It is said that according to agreement in case of war in Europe we will furnish the money, the airplanes and the material, and Western European nations will provide the men. We won't have to furnish the men until after the actual fighting starts.

Oscar Ewing says that the number of people in the United States over 65 years of age has increased from 3,080,400 in 1900 to 11,270,000 now. What? With no socialized medicine?

Massachusetts legislature refuses to outlaw the bean shooter. What with atom bombs at hand and hydrogen bombs on the way the bean-shooter has become academic.

Washington, D. C., is planning on holding a Freedom Fair next year. Among other things we assume this doesn't mean freedom from bureaucracy and high taxes.

There are plenty of good people in the nation who do not need to be asked if they are Communists.

Egypt is beginning to go modern—the government is planning pensions for half a million needy persons.

Making a mistake is bad enough, but sometimes there isn't any one around to whom to shift the blame.

Mysterious Soviet Silence

A mysterious silence that could either be ominous or promising shrouded Moscow's grim Kremlin palace today and there are indications that a major Soviet policy statement may be in the making.

The evidence in this regard is negative rather than positive, to be sure. But the communist propaganda line within the last few days has taken some strange turnings. This lends strength to belief that Premier Joseph Stalin and his top advisers may have embarked upon one of their marathon series of dusk-to-dawn conferences which could produce almost anything.

One Clear Line
Immediately after the invasion of South Korea by communist troops from the north, one clear line went out from Moscow.

This charged that South Korean and United States troops had taken the initiative and were the aggressors, and that in any case the situation was that of civil war, with the United Nations exceeding its authority.

There has been no appreciative change in this propaganda. The passage of events and the obvious fact that the North Koreans long had planned their offensive took much of the original sting out of the Russian charges.

What is strange, however, is that the communists have made no particular attempt to substantiate or even embroider the allegations.

Flip Over To Europe

Instead, the communists flipped over to the European scene, dreaming up a fantastic plot by United States officials and the so-called "monarcho-fascists" of Greece to launch a new Balkan war designed ultimately to involve the Soviet Union.

Such a switch is in many respects characteristic of Russian strategy—the creation of alarmist reaction in widely-separated spheres.

But because of the overriding importance of the Korean war from every possible national and international viewpoint, it seems peculiar that the expected crashing symphony of propaganda on this one subject has not developed.

It may be that the Russians simply have played out the anti-American theme—that there is nothing that they have not said.

But it is also possible that the various organs of Soviet propaganda are in a state of more or less suspended animation, waiting for some definite new instructions.

Time For Parade

This would appear to be the time for some sort of military parade in Moscow, with Stalin, armed folded, looking things over and assuring his people that they can conquer the world if need be.

Instead, the 70-year-old and reportedly ailing premier is silent and invisible.

So is Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky. He is ostensibly on vacation and apparently has not chosen to whip up any public enthusiasm one way or another by a dramatic public appearance at some Crimean seaside resort.

The business of the Kremlin seems to be proceeding on a normal basis. There is what may, of course, be an artificial atmosphere of decorum and dignity.

British Ambassador Sir David Kelly, acting for British Foreign Secretary Bevin who obviously believes there is room for a peaceful settlement, is being received promptly by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko whenever he asks.

No War Preparations

And dispatches passed through Soviet censorship give no hint of hysteria or war preparations—all of which could be explained by saying that perhaps the Soviet nation and people always are prepared for war, both materially and mentally.

Nevertheless, there is a certain quality of unreality and surely of uncertainty in the present situation so far as Moscow is concerned.

Whether this atmosphere portends good or evil no one outside the Kremlin can say. But it is always possible that a new propaganda line, when and if it is formulated, could startle the world and possibly change world conditions overnight.

Folks Of Fame

William Rose Benet, American poet, was born at Fort Hamilton, New York Harbor, on February 2, 1866. He was a free lance writer, writing mostly poetry, and active assistant editor of a magazine.

He served in the Air Force in World War I, and for years after was associated with a review of literature and other magazines as editor and critic. He received the Pulitzer prize in 1942 for his autobiographical verse narrative, "The Dust Which Is God." Merchants from Cathay, The Falconer of God, The Great White Wall, A Book of Poems in Wartime (World War II), were some of his works. He also wrote children's books, Timothy's Angels, etc., and some plays and novels. He died May 4, 1950, in New York City.

John Huss, He was a Bohemian reformer and martyr, born at Hainburg, near Regensburg, in the Bavarian border, in 1369. He was educated at the University of Prague and began to lecture there. Later he was a preacher, to provide good Bohemian preaching in the Bohemian tongue. He preached against ecclesiastical abuses and the clergy laid before his archbishop a formal complaint against his strong expressions. An inquisition was appointed to inquire into the charges of heretical teaching. He was excommunicated, but the populace rose on his behalf and he continued to preach. In 1413 he was summoned to Constance on a safe-conduct, before the Church Council. He was imprisoned and tried, but his defense could not be heard by reason of violent outbursts. A sentence of death was imposed on him, and he was burned at the stake the same day, July 6, 1415.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Just a little more about the socialized state . . . what is happening here in the United States . . . here are some of the facts:

The government is no longer servant . . . it is our master. Government is no longer the legislative part of America . . . it has invaded the realm of banking. It has invaded the realm of agriculture and now it proposes to invade the realm of medicine, education, and anywhere else it can interfere with free enterprise and democratic liberties.

If the Spence Act is passed . . . the president will have complete power over the entire industrial life of this nation, empowered to do as he personally pleases and all under the pretense of helping to keep the free enterprise system alive . . . (remember the Bible story of Rehoboam).

What can we do to counteract . . . and keep the social state away from the very core of the United States. . . Well, we could find out what the free enterprise system really is instead of letting the Social Planners tell us. We can stand up to the Economic Planners and defend the American system . . . and as for handouts . . . we can remind individuals, groups and Communists that what the government gives and spends is taken from our own pockets (the only money the government has comes from taxes). . . Always remember that human freedom is the scarcest and most precious commodity in the world today. . . Instruct our Congressmen to put an end to this wasteful spending. . . Get rid of the Planners when an opportunity comes and it will come.

Let us look at Russia and Britain, and then fall in love with the U.S.A.

Making your thinking clear . . . social planners in Washington are no different than those in Moscow or London . . . they are all socialists and therefore enemies of the basic liberties of men.

God save America. God save the world through America, God save America through us.

WILL HE RELEASE IT?

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Should Be No Panic Action

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The decisions that must somehow be brought out of indecision are so very tough. They have not yet come forth.

Stern critics, both in and out of government, believe they should have come forth long since. Responsible officials reply that these decisions must be made with all the available facts in hand and not in an atmosphere of haste and even panic.

The civilian secretaries for the three armed services are compiling lists of what they believe will be essential for a six-months operation. They must also schedule replacements all down the line both in men and supplies.

The air force has not placed an order for a single new plane since the beginning of the Korean conflict. But this does not mean merely delay. It means getting ready a detailed schedule for stepping up plane production plant by plant throughout the United States.

Question of Conflicts
When these essential shopping lists are ready, then comes the question of conflict and above all conflicts with a civilian economy operating at boomtime levels.

As a purely theoretical example, let's say that Secretary of the Army Frank Pace has on his list an order for 300 medium and heavy tanks.

Such an order suddenly plumped into the steel market would have an atomic effect. Steel production is already stretched to the limit. To put anything more on top of it without a system of allocations and priorities, would create a gray market if not a black market.

Besides the conflict with the civilian economy, there is the probability of competition between the services for both men and materials. If reservists are called up separately by each service without regard for the vital needs of industrial production of military essentials, then the confusion may be confounded.

Should Be Centralized
All this points to the responsibility that should be centralized in the National Security Resources Board and its chairman, W. Stuart Symington. The board's authority was presumably increased by a recent reorganization order. It also suggests what seem to me to be two basic questions:

1. Is there an over-all plan of operation as was contemplated by President Truman in his first speech on national defense in 1945?

2. If there is such a plan, does it call for the coordination of men and materials through the Security Resources Board supposedly created for that purpose?

This is not the time, when green, half-trained American youths are dying on a distant and desperate battlefield, for jealousies of position and priority. The time for that has long since passed.

No Time To Rock Boat
But neither is it the time to rock

the boat with shrill, hysterical cries about what was left undone. The reluctance of the administration to take immediate steps looking to all-out effort is directly related to the hope that the Korean conflict can be localized. There is the corresponding fear that mobilization of resources would produce a like response in the Soviet Union and the end result would be total war between the two halves of the world.

Those who argue the other side, and they include influential members of congress, say that if mobilization of men and resources is to bring the showdown with Russia, then we had better know it now rather than later. The time, they insist, will be desperately short in any event to prepare the country for security either in a half war or in a whole war with the Soviet Union. This kind of argument is going on hour after hour in the White House and Capitol Hill.

Struggle Illustrated
The struggle between frenzied haste and orderly procedure is nowhere better illustrated than in the business of civilian defense. Thus Symington is under pressure to produce immediately an ironclad plan to insure the maximum of safety for each community.

Mayors and governors telephone daily to find out why they are not being told what to do and when to do. Symington, who has been chairman of the NSRB only three months, replies that he will have a completed plan on the date scheduled long since—September 1. To rush out something at once because of the Korean emergency would, in his opinion, be a disservice, since it would be inadequate. Mayors and governors who do not like this answer are rushing in with their own plans.

Jitters will not make up for past deficiencies. Action is supremely important. But it should not be panic action.

When Sir Thomas Lipton died in 1931, he had never imbibed alcohol, smoked, gambled, nor married. Maybe that's why he was able to leave four million dollars to the poor of Glasgow in his will. Competitors say, however, it was because he was the smartest, slickest exhibitionist who ever entered the tea business. Sir Thomas' yacht (the financed five successive Shamrocks; never once captured the international cup, but they won for his tea products about a hundred million dollars' worth of free publicity.

Will Rogers said, "Sir Thomas is probably the world's worst yacht builder but absolutely the world's most cheerful loser." Sir Thomas could afford to be!

According to Sir Thomas' biographer, Alec Waugh, his publicity was summed up in his one paragraph: "A man may have many friends, but he will find none so steadfast, so constant, so ready to respond to his wants, so capable of pushing him ahead, as a little leather-covered book with the name of a bank on its cover."

Collars, Ties For Ladies

By PAUL GALlico

PARIS, July 15.—It is about time that this department excused the gents in its audience, declared Ladies' Day and caught the ladies up on the latest in the world of fashion from this city.

I am happy to do this, for the newest wrinkle for the gels has, I must say, afforded me a great deal of pleasure. . . . Hey! On second thought, come back, all you guys! It turns out this is going to be just as much for gents as their vice versa.

New Idea For Ladies
For a party by the name of Jacques Fath, a big shot dressmaker and style designer in this town, has come up with the idea of collars and ties for ladies, and that is what they are wearing, from regular wing collars such as the boys use when they put on their white ties, to stiffly-starched, turn-down Eton affairs, and on their white ties, with these collars, the babes wear flowing black foulard four-in-hand ties, or little black or white bow ties, or just bits of black ribbon or string.

They wear them with these aforementioned dickies, with shirts, waists, with blouses, and with evening dresses connected with just nothing at all, which last I guess I'd better tell you a little more about.

Wearing Stiff White Collar
A model will come strolling in wearing a kind of evening wrap and top piece and you can see that she is wearing a stiff white wing collar, maybe with no tie at all. Well, she will do two turns around the room, shed the wrap, peel off the top piece, and zowie, there she is in evening dress with arms and shoulders bare, but still wearing the collar.

Now, if we went around wearing a starched collar with nothing but a skivvy, or singlet, we'd look pretty silly and sooner or later either the cops or the sheriff's office would run us in on one or another of a number of counts, but darned if on them it isn't becoming. Some of them just look real cute prancing about with not much clothes on and this little collar about their necks. All they want is a leash.

But what I was getting at is that it will be a fine thing if this idea spreads to the States, especially where daytime clothes are concerned, because it means at last that we men will get a little sympathy and understanding.

She Is A Changed Girl
I know, because of course the Missus had to get herself a couple of those outfits and since she has had to take up the struggle with a starched collar, she is a Changed Girl. Ever so much gentler and more respectfully toward the male sex.

It is really something of a tonic to come upon her in the traditional attitude of man, face empurpled, elbows out, one collar end loose and murmuring words one never even knew she knew. I predict a new era in the difficult human relationship of marriage.

You are all familiar with the attitude of the wife toward the husband who is fighting a losing battle with a collar that is too stiff and too tight for him and a collar button that is too small and too fundamentally weak to stand the strain. She counsels patience and self-control, she professes not to be able to understand how a man can be so profane and vulgar and fly into such a revolting tantrum over nothing but a little old collar.

Is Less Well Off
Well, all this is changed now or will be if the fashion spreads. A lady wrasslin' with a recalcitrant starched linen band is in no better position than a man, indeed she is less well off, for being the weaker sex, she has not the power to overcome the things by brute force, or to punish it by seizing the loose and balky part in her two hands and ripping it from end to end as any self-respecting male will do when goaded beyond endurance.

The girls have set themselves back where we were fifty years ago, for it is only my generation that has freed itself from the stiff collar for daily wear and restricts its self-torture to formal clothes. And even with black tie we have taken to wearing soft, comfortable and floppy shirts. But I am betting that the gals will catch up fast.

And there are further compensations. When we are ready to go I get to say in that certain tone of voice that used to be reserved for the better half, "Darling, fix your tie. It's a mess," or "Dearest, you've got a smudge on your collar," or "Wait a minute, dearest. Let me straighten out your necktie for you. It's all over the place, and the knot's slipped down. Well, how CAN I fix it if you don't hold still. You've got it around under your ear somewhere."

Boys, your day is a-comin'. Ties make the loveliest Christmas presents.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Among the most delightful features in most newspapers are those little fillers the typesetters put in when there is a gap after the end of an article or news item.

Sometimes, of course, they are a little bit irritating to the writer. But on the other hand, they also make him see things in their true values.

As, for instance, a couple of days ago when I read one of my columns in print.

It was about what I had considered an enormously important subject—LOVE.

I had philosophized on its mysteries, its beauties, its wonders. I had finished with this sentence: "Let LOVE be forever something that 'passeth all understanding'."

An inspiring ending, don't you think so?

But there was a little space left at the end of the column. The typesetter needed a few more lines to fill that space.

So this is what appeared after my last paragraph and made it look as if it were part of the column:

"The flying squirrel is no home-maker. But he'll cheerfully appropriate a home that has been tapped out of a tree by a hard-working woodpecker."

First I wondered for a moment whether I had lost my mind and written this as part of my column on LOVE.

I looked up my carbon copy and found that I had not.

Then I realized that the typesetter had needed a filler.

I started to get mad. Then I laughed.

After all—wasn't it a pretty good "balance" item at that? Wasn't it also about love?

That flying squirrel who makes his nest in the woodpecker's home may be a rascal.

But one makes a nest only for those one loves.

And, although he may not be a

Special Provisions For Enlistments For Former Navy Men

Former Navy men not belonging to any Naval Reserve activities who reenlist under broken service as seaman or above are not restricted as to the number of dependents he may have. Broken service men reenlisting as seaman recruit or seaman apprentice may have no dependents.

Of great interest is the change concerning men discharged under Al Nav 117 (Saved Pay) who may now reenlist immediately, as may all other ex-Navy men discharged for dependency reasons.

Mental, physical and moral requirements are still in effect and must be met by all applicants.

Reservists and broken service personnel being enlisted will be sent to the Navy Recruiting Station, Philadelphia, for outfitting and reassignment to duty.

Men are advised to call at the local Navy Recruiting Station for application or more detailed information.

New Castle Kiwanis Club will have its noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Wednesday, with a good program assured, but not announced as yet. Lots of activities are in the air and will be announced in the near future.

Illegal Voting Shown By Conn

Errors Of Voters And Election Boards

Eleven illegal votes were cast in the primary election of May 16, according to A. Lewis Conn, chief clerk of the registration commission.

In a report to the county commissioners, who compose the board of elections, Mr. Conn shows that three voters cast ballots in precincts in which they were not authorized and eight more cast ballots in party elections in which they were not registered.

Those who Mr. Conn says voted in precincts other than they should include William N. Autholes, 120 1/2 West Washington street; Henry Replowski of Union township and George Boy of Ellwood City.

Eight votes are shown to be cast by members of parties other than those in which they were registered. The following eight are either Republicans or Democrats. A ballot was handed them for the opposite party. This seems to be chargeable of the election board.

The voters are Edward Becker, Little Beaver township; Mary Jean Bayless, Neshannock township; Joseph Exposito, Edensburg; Anna Gallagher, Ellport; Alexander Rossi, Ellwood City; Minna Keller, Ellwood City, and George Gayle Rice, East Grant street.

The board of elections will probably call the voters in for investigation.

The Democratic county committee is meeting today at 2:30 to decide whether or not to change the by-laws to permit the election of a chairman on the ballot instead of by vote of the committeemen.

COUNTY HOME FULL
The enrollment in the county home at present is higher than it has been for many years, perhaps the highest of all time. Mrs. Olive Bolinger, superintendent, said today she has 203 in the home. Of this number 29 are "transfer" patients from Torrance, that is, they are eligible for admission to Torrance but the institution is full.

Fifty-two men and 29 women are bedfast. 18 are blind and 35 are on crutches or canes.

Blood Typing Is Urged In Case Of Atomic Attack

HARRISBURG, July 15.—(INS)—Blood typing of all Pennsylvanians as a "protection against the effects of an atomic attack" was urged today by a special committee of the medical profession.

The committee on emergency disaster medical service of the Pennsylvania Medical Society turned the recommendation over to the governor's civil defense committee.

"Blood from living donors immediately following an atom blast will save more lives than anything else," said Dr. C. W. Smith of Harrisburg. "It is necessary to know each person's blood type not only so that he may help save the life of an injured person, but so that his own life may be saved should he be a victim."

Smith, a member of the disaster medical committee, said the society soon will inaugurate an educational program to persuade all men, women and children to have their blood typed.

"This is a simple and painless procedure and everyone should welcome the opportunity to be prepared in the event they are victims of a burn or other injury resulting from an enemy attack," he declared.

"Blood typing is important in the normal hazards of heavy industry and automobile accidents," he added.

Under the plan suggested by the society, each individual's blood type would be noted either on social security cards, automobile driver's licenses or metal discs.

Man Caught Stealing Was Taken To Police In 'Scene Of Crime'

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 15.—(INS)—A prowler landed in a Cheyenne jail when the scene of his crime rolled to police headquarters taking him with it.

O. G. Hedgecock of Cheyenne found the prowler rummaging through the glove compartment of his automobile, parked on a downtown street last night. The man's leg protruded through the open car door.

Hedgecock promptly slammed the door on the exposed leg, armed himself with an empty pop bottle and drove the trapped prowler to a police station.

Officers identified the man as Edward L. Murphy, 45, of Des Moines, Ia., an ex-convict. They said they found three rings, five pairs of eye glasses, a brooch, a camera and a wrist watch in his possession. Murphy was held for investigation.

URGES SAFETY PROGRAM

HARRISBURG, July 15.—(INS)—Gov. James Duff today called upon rural residents to take advantage of the statewide program sponsored by the Pennsylvania Farm Safety Council.

"While education in safety methods is rightfully a continuing effort, rural people have an opportunity to concentrate on such programs during National Farm Safety Week July 23-29," the governor said.

Electric Service At Bessemer To Be Interrupted

An interruption of electric service for residents in the Bessemer area has been scheduled for Sunday morning from 7 to 10 a.m., by Pennsylvania Power Company. This interruption is necessary for the purpose of increasing the capacity of the electric facilities by raising the distribution voltage in that district.

All customers of the Company in Bessemer west of the Bessemer Limestone Company crossing on Poland Avenue to the Pennsylvania-Ohio State Line and south of Bessemer to the Mt. Jackson-Petersburg road in North Beaver Township will be affected by the interruption.

All preliminary work for the voltage increase has been completed and the final connections will be made during the three hours on Sunday morning. All available linemen of the Company will be on the job to cut the interruption time to the minimum.

If weather conditions are unfavorable Sunday morning, the work will be postponed until the following Sunday at the same time. All customers who will be affected by this interruption have been notified by post card.

Marine Reserves May Enlist For One Year Temporary Duty

Marine Reservists in the rank of sergeant and below may now apply for one year temporary active duty provided they pass the standard enlistment requirements, James E. Rowe, officer in charge of the New Castle district, announced today.

The directive received from Washington also reduced some color and dental requirements for enlistment. Many applicants have been rejected recently who may now be eligible, the sergeant stated.

Marine veterans not in the reserve may also apply for this temporary active duty. Master sergeants will be appointed to sergeant if discharged more than one year and technical sergeants will be appointed to corporal with the same provision. If the reserves are mobilized, however, these men will be reappointed to the rank from which reduced.

SYNTHETIC DETERGENTS EFFECTIVE IN HARD WATER

When necessary to wash woollens in hard water, synthetic detergents are better for removing soil than soap. However, if soft water, soap does an equally good job. Tests on washing cottons in hard water, but that soaps are a better dirt chaser for washing cottons in soft water.

Chemists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, who made the washing tests on both woollens and cottons, found that it took about three times as much soap to remove the same amount of soil in hard water as in soft water. Synthetic detergents were twice as effective in removing soil in hard water as soap in hard water.

Synthetic detergents have in common one advantage. They do not form sticky curds or scum in hard water, so it is not necessary to use a water softener. It is this advantage over soap which, in hard water areas, has made them popular.

In general, most synthetic detergents have good lathering properties. Some are treated to prevent the formation of suds. These sudsless synthetics usually are recommended for the automatic washers where too much suds interferes with the washing action.

ELECTRIC RADIANT HEATING

A new type of electric radiant heating system now on the market includes a portable heater that looks like a 2x3 foot panel of plywood or marble. The panel, which is actually asbestos imbedded with wires, radiates at 135-160 degrees heat when plugged into a light socket. To heat a house, panels can be built into the walls and covered with specially treated paint or wallpaper.

PLANNING PAYS DIVIDENDS

Rewards are great when you take time to make time. When you study your work habits, you'll find many things you can do to make a day's work more effective. Adequate storage at the mixing center in your kitchen increases efficiency. Consider basic needs at the mixing center. Eliminate the utensils and supplies that are seldom used, then plan where each of the constantly used articles may be stored to the best advantage. Put spices, seasonings and flavorings where it is easy to reach their labels. Arrange the containers so you can remove them without disturbing the others. Suggested places for keeping these items are: In racks on the inside of cupboard doors, on a light removable rack or on narrow shelves around the three sides of a cupboard.

Storage for staples and packaged foods may be in the form of step-up shelves placed in the wall cupboard, revolving shelves of a Lazy Susan, or open shelves that may be covered with a pull shade. For flour, sugar and salt that are constantly measured and used at the mixing center, provide washable containers with wide openings. Flour in large quantities may be kept in a large drop-forward bin or bin on casters in base cupboards. A metal lining makes such a bin more vermin-proof and easier to clean.

FUNCTIONAL FURNITURE SAVES ROOM SPACE

Furniture styles today are becoming more and more functional. Designers are planning furniture for small homes and apartments where double and triple duty pieces save space.

Some of the useful functional pieces of furniture available now include tables that fold down from the cupboard storing dishes. You can buy desks that are a part of chests and drawers. The bed that pulls out of a wall cabinet or closet door has been a feature in small homes and apartments for some time. Another useful item is a table which slides over a bed, sofa or chair to serve food. It can be used also as an end table for a lamp and books.

Drop walls and blinds, sliding partitions and sliding doors make it possible to transform two or three small rooms into one large one in a jiffy.

The space-saving trend is further shown in dividing walls between rooms. The walls contain closets and built-in chests of drawers or vanities. Closet doors have racks, shelves and sections planned for small articles. A linen closet near the bathroom may have pull-out shelves or drop-front drawers the right size for towels, wash cloths and sheets. Door racks hold soap, powders and other toilet articles.

SAD TALE OF MONKEY

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—Jerry, a three-year-old monkey, bit off more than he could chew. He escaped from his cage at Ormond Tropical gardens and got into a tool shed where dynamite caps were stored. Jo Jo the clown, Jerry's keeper, said he guessed the dynamite caps "looked like a new kind of candy to him." Attendees heard an explosion. No more monkey.

Margaret O'Brien Meets Counterpart In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, July 14.—(INS)—East met west today—and nothing more important was discussed than watermelon and pet dogs. Margaret O'Brien, Flinkerville's sweetiepie with freckles, encountered her Japanese double, pigtail to pigtail over a plate of fried shrimp and a mountain of watermelon.

While their mothers and press agents fussed and fluttered, Maggie and Tiny Misora Hibari, the "Margaret O'Brien of Japan," stared shyly at each other and giggled self consciously. Not a word was said at first—for obviously the kiddie stars did not speak the same languages.

In a minute the little Oriental charmer lifted inquisitive fingers and cautiously fondled one of Maggie's tremendous braids. That did it—the two "Margaret O'Briens" began gesturing and gabbering, via Hibari's interpreter, Misora Hibari, which translates freely into "skylark." has just arrived in Hollywood to meet her namesake and to make a few location shots for the Nipponese film, "Tokyo Kid," with Haruhisa Kawada, the Japanese Bob Hope.

Report 220 North Korean Tanks Are Damaged Or Ruined

TOKYO, July 15.—(INS)—A total of 220 Communist tanks have been listed as destroyed or damaged in communiques from General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters to date, but a spokesman said today there are "undoubtedly" many duplications in the reports.

The communiques have listed 140 tanks destroyed, 13 probably destroyed and 67 damaged. The headquarters spokesman emphasized that the communiques invariably say "reported" destroyed or damaged.

He explained that headquarters does not itself consider the total figures accurate but believes them to be the best estimates possible under the circumstances of high speed jet aircraft attacking ground targets.

In a July 11th recapitulation, MacArthur carefully prefaced a report on enemy losses with the statement there might be "some" duplication because of the speed of the attacking planes.

Saints Defeat Indies, 12-11

St. Margaret Retains Lead In City League

St. Margaret's 12-11 victory over the Indies in the City League today by virtue of a 12-11 victory over the second place Lawrence Independents last night at Flaherty field. The game went into the tenth inning before the Saints emerged winner. The victory gives the Saints 21 wins and three defeats and the Indies 20 victories and five defeats.

The winning pitcher was Buchioni who relieved Barbatto in the first inning for the Saints, and although behind 4 to 0, he came through the winner. The losing pitcher was Monk Ranley, who relieved Shelar in the seventh inning.

Bing Markey was responsible for driving in the winning run in the tenth inning with his sixth hit. His hit drove Barbatto across home plate. Bing had a perfect night at bat, getting six hits in six times at bat, and his batting average is now above .500. He has hit safely 14 times out of his last 17 times at bat.

T. Razano and Barbatto together accounted for nine runs out of 12 made by the Saints.

For the Independents, Rainey was the "big gun" with four hits, which included a pair of doubles. Wilk and Jameson poled triples.

Churchill Loses Tough One, 3 To 2; Wagner Snaps Oilers' Streak, 14-3

OIL CITY, Pa., July 15.—(Special)—The Oil City Refiners retained their finger hold on the top spot in the Mid-Atlantic League here last night as they split a double-header with the pennant grasping New Castle Senators. Oil City won the opener 3-2, for their 12th straight. New Castle took the night-cap 14-3 to snap the longest winning streak in the league this year.

Over five hours of baseball went for naught here Friday night as the statisticians pencil showed Oil City holding down first place by a scant four-tenths of one percentage point. That microscopically thin margin possessed only by virtue of their having played three more games than the Senators.

DePillo hit 6th Homer
DePillo homered in the first game, his sixth of the year, to get New Castle off to an early lead, which was padded by another run in the top of the fourth, garnered on two walks and a single. De Pillo scored from second on Eikenberg's Texas-league single into right-center.

The Refiners came back with runs in both the fourth and fifth to make it a tie ball game, and a tie it remained through the originally scheduled seven innings and for an extra inning and a half. But in the home half of the ninth, Oil City's only extra base hit of the ball game was just enough to tie Huddleston score on McLish's hard hit line drive into deep right field.

Excellent Pitching
Herb Churchill, charged with his fourth loss against ten wins, was as impressive losing his four hitter, as Frank Wagner was in winning the five-hit second game, his seventh against two defeats.

New Castle will take on the Refiners in the third game of this four game series at Ramage-Hasson stadium at 8:00 tonight. Stan Zedalis (7-8) listed as the probable starter for the Senators and Bill Smith (2-0) slated to oppose him. Barring unusual events either New Castle or Oil City will have a firm grip on the head of the league standing list by midnight tonight.

Leary Very Generous
Leary, reputed to be Oil City's ace pitcher, opened the second game by giving New Castle three walks and a single in the first inning and thus set the pace for practically every succeeding frame. New Castle managed to push across for a tally no less than six of the 10 men who were handed free tickets, and four of Oil City's six errors were factors in the scoring of the Senators' runs.

New Castle's two big innings, the sixth and ninth, were featured by as many different plays as could be crammed into two half innings. In the fourth De Pillo found himself on second when Huddleston, by way of endeavoring himself to the record crowd of over 2,500, dropped the former's high towering fly. This colossal flub was only an introduction to three safeties, viz. a single, a double and a triple in that order. All these followed by a walk. This activity, mixed with a fielders' choice, a force-out and two pop flies, was enough to give the Senators three runs.

The ninth for New Castle, while much less exciting, was considerably more profitable. Four walks, three base hits and a double steal were neatly parlayed into five runs.

Jack Grubisa had Bessemer's only extra-base hit, a double. Paul Madrid had three singles and Curly Anderson had a pair of safeties. P. Marshall batted two singles for Koppel.

RIFLE MATCH TODAY

The Colonel Charles Young rifle league will have a match shoot at the Sportsman range at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, the Spotters meeting the "Dead Eyes."

The Spotters are leading the league. The 30-M's and 22's are fired in the league.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

SOME FANS who attend Mid-Atlantic league games at Flaherty field display an utter lack of sportsmanship, which, after all, is fair play, in uttering a salvo of criticism at a Senator when he fans the ozone. The fan should remember that, even the great Ted Williams and the slamin' Ralph Kiner fan now and then. For years, New Castle yearned for a minor league baseball club, and a team that would win. The city now has both. A ball player is no different than an actor. Applause urges them on to greater efforts. Fans who have been criticizing young players who are trying to make the grade, should applaud, instead of knocking. . . . In view of the past booing that has been directed toward some of the players, which doesn't affect some, but which seriously affects others, why wouldn't it be a good idea for the fans, at the next game, to give the Senators a rousing cheer when they trot into the field and give hearty applause to a player who makes a hard try for a hit ball even though he boots it? Try this and you'll see the Senators playing their heads off.

THERE'LL BE another train filled with fans August 6 when Cleveland and the Yankees clash at Cleveland. . . . Billy Williams, the bartone, who now resides in the Beaver Valley, was a visitor here yesterday. . . . Boxing is more popular than wrestling. Wednesday night in New York's Yankee stadium, Don Eagle and Antonio LaRocca wrestled to a 55-minute draw in view of a $33,000 house. In Madison Square Garden, Jake LaMotta decisioned Tiberio Mitri before a $99,000 house. . . . Locally, Tommy Leach is having his troubles with the Columbus wrestling clique. He has asked for the services of Gorgeous Georges but to no avail. Apparently the wrestlers are so popular elsewhere they intend passing up New Castle. Leach should forget the burlesquers and stage a good fight show.

CONTRARY TO BELIEF, the common American eel does have scales. . . . On several occasions Pat Hennessey told Here & There of catching eel as thick as one's arm, and which reached from his shoulders to his ankles off the River Shannon, in Ireland. . . . Indications are that the Little Big League will have to locate on a field near Flaherty field, which has been offered the loop sponsors by Preston Flaherty, a former good pitcher. . . . Abbie Astor, Joe Rick's trotter, raced in the 2:26 Classified event, 7/4 mile at Painesville last night. How Abbie finished is not known here yet. . . . Harper Dick is an attache of Painesville track. He formerly owned and drove horses at the New Castle fair track.

WARREN SPAHN of the Boston Braves has a good chance to record the best strikeout mark in the National loop in 10 years, and with some mystifying slants, could come close to the modern senior loop mark set by Christy Mathewson in 1903. After 73 games of the 154-game season Spahn had struck out 108. The immortal Matty's strikeout total was 267, a figure which is relatively low compared to the American league mark set by Bob Feller in 1948, when he racked up 348 strikeouts. Spahn had 151 strikeouts last season. Matty, who pitched for the Giants from 1900 to 1916, and who died in 1925, struck out 200 or more a season, five times. Vander Meer was the strikeout king of the National league three years in a row, 1941-43, inclusive.

Thirty-Four Attend Tryout School Friday

Thirty-four boys from Lawrence county and vicinity appeared at Flaherty field Friday for the first day of a three-day tryout school being conducted by the Washington Senators.

The weather was perfect and the boys played baseball, under the supervision of Otto Bluege, Joe Bird and Chick Suggs, from 10 in the morning until nearly 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Every boy played in the ball game with pitchers toiling three innings apiece.

The boys ranged in age from 16 to 21 and were of all sizes. Many of them are currently playing in sandlot leagues throughout the county.

Large Turnout Here
It was too early to determine what players showed promise after only one day's workout, but by the end of the third day and perhaps the second the Washington Senators school directors should have a pretty good idea of who the most promising are.

All boys who show enough talent will be invited to the Washington Senators training camp next spring at Winter Garden, Fla., with all expenses paid.

The school is open for boys 16 to 21 years of age. All that is needed is baseball shoes and glove.

Cardinals Defeat Phils, 4-2; Detroit Tigers Widen Lead

By JOHN BARRINGTON
(A. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 15.—Never count those St. Louis Cardinals out.

Last night, after trailing at the end of three innings, the Cardinals came bouncing back to whip the Phillies, 4 to 2, and cut those young whippersnappers' lead back to a single game.

Neither the Boston Braves nor the Brooklyn Dodgers muffed an opportunity to gain on the Phils yesterday. The Braves snapped a five-game Cincinnati winning streak, 6 to 4.

Brooklyn's 22-year-old fugitive from the bull pen, Erv Palica, came through with his second straight five-hit victory as a starter, this one a 1-to-0 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

The New York Giants had a seven-run first inning—climaxed by Wes Westrum's 12th homer—but barely staggered to a 7-to-5 win over Pittsburgh. The triumph snapped a six-game New York losing streak and lifted the Giants into fifth place.

Ralph Kiner hit his 25th homer, a triple and a double in the losing Pirate cause.

The Cleveland Indians climbed to within half a game of second place in the American league as Bob Lemon subdued the New York Yankees, 5 to 1.

The Detroit Tigers widened their league lead to four and a half games by whitewashing Washington, 2 to 0, on Freddie Hutchinson's six-hitter.

Red Sox Win, 13-1
Boston's lambasting Red Sox treated themselves to an 11-run third inning—their second of such proportions this season—and easily defeated the Chicago White Sox, 13 to 1.

Philadelphia and the St. Louis Browns split a doubleheader. The A's own the first game, 3 to 2; St. Louis 5 to 2 in the nightcap.

Hard Top Title Race At Canfield

CANFIELD, O., July 15.—The Canfield Speedway is ready for the running of the 50 Lap Trophy championship Hard Top Race on an exciting 9 event card.

The championship race will be 50 laps on the quarter mile speedway with 24 starters taking the Green Flag. The semi-final event will go for 15 laps with 16 starters.

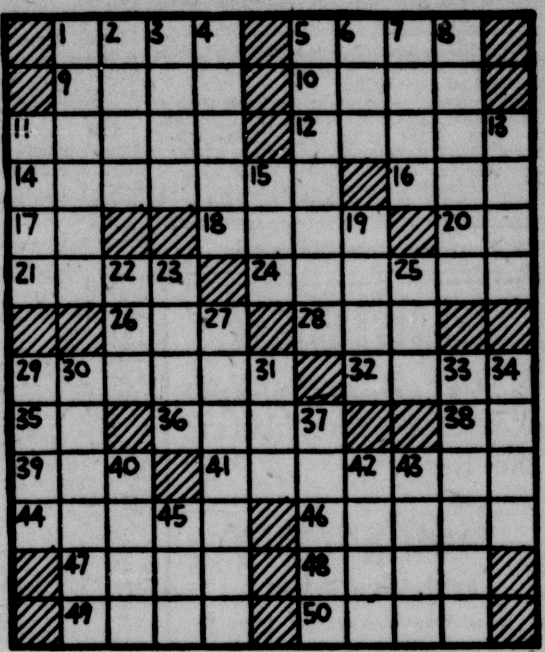

In addition to these two outstanding events, the ladies will run a special race with 10 entered for the start.

It is actually possible that the Detroit Tigers will prove to be the club the rest must beat for the American league pennant.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 15.—Iris Wong, the Chinese lassie who has appeared in a score of movies as the Oriental menace, or as the sweetheart of Charlie Chan's son, thinks that Hollywood is going all out for Japanese actors these days and discriminating against her race.

Iris claims that all the furore over Shirley Yamaguchi, the "Betty Grable of Japan" who currently is being toasted by Hollywood as an up and coming featured player, is causing a lot of ill feeling among the film city's sizeable Chinese colony.

Says the sly-eyed Chinese beauty: "We are all miffed about Shirley and the other Japanese actors who are being fêted by Hollywood. During the war when Japanese were sent to concentration camps, they used Chinese actors to portray Japanese villains. Now they are casting Japanese in Chinese parts."

Lots of Fanfare

Besides shapely Shirley Yamaguchi, Iris referred to Sessue Hayakawa (although he was a big name in Hollywood pictures during the silent era), Kenya Tanaka, known as "the Betty Davis of Japan," and Haruhisa Kawada, called "the Red Skelton of Japan."

Twenty-five-year-old Iris Wong, after 12 years in pictures, now finds herself competing with Shirley for Chinese parts.

"We are both under consideration for an important role in 'Macao,' says the Chinese actress, "but I am afraid that she will get the part. And it is the same way with other pictures in which orientals are featured."

Iris' screen credits include the second lead in the Alan Ladd picture "China," a steady stream of roles in the perennial Charlie Chan and Mr. Moto pictures and her most recent, "Smuggler's Island."

Between pictures Iris appears as the sinister dragon lady in a television serial, demonstrates for a Chinese frozen food concern and does a nightclub stint once in a while in San Francisco or New York.

SURPRISE PARTY

Spencer Tracy planned a long-distance birthday party for a young girl that will make her the happiest youngster in the world.

His daughter, Suzie, will celebrate her birthday while enroute to Europe on the Ile de France. Tracy wired the ship's captain to arrange a surprise party with all the gala trimmings at the command of the trans-Atlantic ocean liner. The party will be a surprise even to her mother and brother, John, who are with her.

The actor had to remain in Hollywood to prepare for his forthcoming starring film, "Father's Little Dividend," a sequel to his recent hit, "Father of the Bride."

Britain Makes Protest To Russia On Repatriation

LONDON, July 15.—(INS)—Great Britain protested to Soviet Russia again today over failure to repatriate more than a million German war prisoners still alleged to be in Russian hands.

A formal note said that the Soviet government "has demonstrated complete disregard of the principles of common humanity" in the matter.

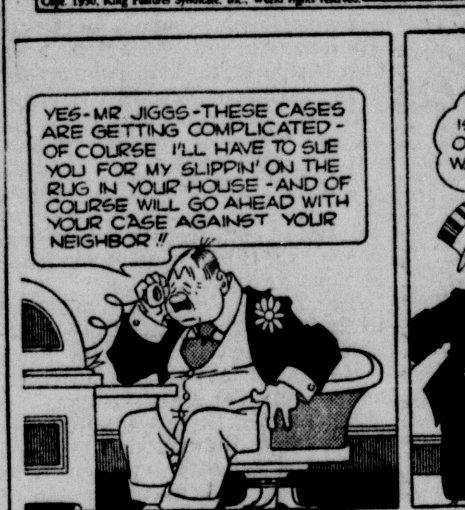

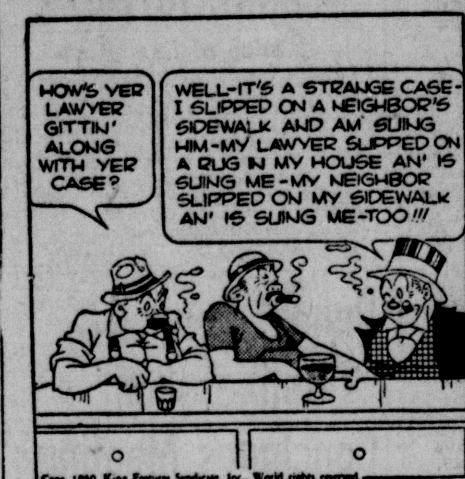

The Russians claimed in an official announcement some weeks ago that repatriation of war prisoners has been completed.

The western allies and the West German government, however, have cited evidence that more than a million men taken captive during the Second World War have been impressed into slave labor battalions.

GIVEN PRISON TERM

LANCASTER, Pa., July 15.—(INS)—A sentence of two and one half to five years in Eastern Penitentiary was imposed today by the Lancaster County Court on Llewellyn Hoffman, 38, of Lancaster, after he pleaded guilty to the theft of three watches from a mid-city jewelry store June 2. Judge J. B. Wissler also imposed a $100 fine.

One-Woman Revolt On Double Taxation May Be Ended Today

TOLLAND, Mass., July 15.—(INS)—The one-woman revolt against "double taxation" may end today.

Homer Gargo, 65, said he will pay his wife's 1948 automobile excise tax bill of $40.07 plus interest and penalties—total about $57. That is, Gargo said he will unless unforeseen help arrives for the embattled farm couple.

Fargo said he could no longer stand having his wife, Helen, 59, remain in Hampden county jail, Springfield, in default of her tax payment to the Town of Sandisfield.

Mrs. Fargo was remanded to the jail one week ago today for non-payment of the bill to Sandisfield after she had paid the tax to the town of Tolland. Fargo said today, "I may pay the tax to Sandisfield and get my wife out of jail. My lawyer said it was the best thing to do, that a court fight would cost a lot of money—money that we don't have."

"I've talked to my wife about it, and she doesn't like the idea, but she told me, 'What else can we do?'"

"We aren't looking for law suits or money. We only want justice," Fargo added.

"We don't want to disgrace Mr. Long (State Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long) in any way, but this is what we feel in our hearts: 'The Constitution says that a person cannot be thrown in jail without a hearing. If a man can come and take my wife to jail without a hearing, then we feel he has dictatorial powers.'"

Man-Size Playthings

On a recreation ground in New York City there are some pieces of play equipment that only a person of imagination could have dreamed up. Probably remembering the childhood fun he'd had around construction jobs after the workers had laid off for the day, a housing official experimented with large sections of concrete sewer pipe. Some he left standing on end, others lying flat on the ground, blocked so they could not roll.

The children were crazy about them. Traditional swings and slides were often deserted for the new equipment. The youngsters crawled and rolled everywhere; they climbed through, on, and over the pipes—they provided an unending source of fun.

For years, teachers have known how much youngsters enjoy large packing boxes; and ladders, fastened together for climbing, are intriguing man-size playthings too. Although I've never seen one used, I'm sure that a large wooden cable spool would be a most satisfying piece of playground equipment. Heavy and sturdy enough to take any amount of abuse; equipped with a center hole for mast or flagpole; with one side serving as a roof and the other as a floor. If we can just put our imaginations to work there is generally some piece of equipment that can be used for backyard or playground recreation.

Acheson Calls Arms-Aid Meeting In London, July 25

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(INS)—Secretary of State Acheson has called deputies of the North Atlantic Council to meet in London on July 25 to speed up the program of arms aid for anti-Communist countries.

The permanent council of deputies was agreed on between Acheson and the Atlantic Pact foreign ministers in London last Spring to meet sudden emergencies that might arise and to make spot decisions. Acheson called the meeting as chairman of the foreign ministers.

On AEC Again

SUMNER T. PIKE is confirmed member of Atomic Energy commission for another four years by a 55-24 vote of the Senate in Washington. The vote discounted charges by atomic committee member Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (R), Iowa, that Pike did not "measure up" to AEC standards. Pike had been acting chairman since resignation of chairman David E. Lilienthal in February. (International)

Doctors-Surgeons Speedily Dispatched To Japan And Korea

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(INS)—A cabinet member said today that 500 Army surgeons and doctors have been speedily dispatched to Japan and Korea in answer to an emergency request from Gen. Douglas MacArthur to care for casualties in the Korean war.

The official said the medical officers were available because the defense department had recently closed five Army and Navy general hospitals.

The cabinet member, who would not permit use of his name, said government is placing these five hospitals back on a "standby" basis pending reactivation as needed if the Korean war brings heavy casualties.

The hospitals are: Murphy General at Waltham, Mass.; Percy Jones at Battle Creek, Mich.; Valley Forge at Phoenixville, Pa.; Oliver General at Augusta, Ga.; and the U. S. Naval Hospital at Long Beach, Calif.

Two of these hospitals—the Oliver General and the Long Beach—had been turned over to the veterans administration.

Considerable criticism resulted from the closing of the five hospitals.

The cabinet official defended the administration's action. He said that by closing the hospitals a large number of highly trained defense medical personnel was made available for immediate use in the Korean emergency.

Danger Cited In Construction Of Hydrogen Bomb

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(I. N. S. Special Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The congressional atomic committee reported today that the greatest danger in hydrogen bomb construction lies in a possible premature explosion that would destroy both the bomb and its makers.

The committee said that it is necessary to create heat similar to that of the interior of the sun in order to get an explosion.

The report added: "Such a reaction before the assembly flies apart and while the temperature is adequately high accounts for much of the uncertainty that exists as to whether hydrogen weapons are feasible."

"Control of these dreadful weapons is still the heart question of the peace, the overriding question which, unless solved, leaves nothing fundamentally sound."

Much of the report was given over to a discussion of whether the proposed United Nations plan will be effective in controlling the ingredients of the hydrogen bomb.

CUSTOM ORIGIN

LONDON—In early English days, it was the custom to put a piece of toast in the winecup for flavor. Hence was derived the expression "to drink a toast."

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK, July 15.—(INS)—Christian Dior, maker of modes and money, predicted today that women will look like well-dressed guitarists this fall.

He recommended that they be curved the same way as the instrument.

To improve on natural feminine lines, Dior showed a 1950 collection full of suit jackets that bell out over the hips. The jacket peplums, given their shape through stiffened linings, are always worn over slim-as-pencil skirts.

Above the waist, bodices are moulded to the figure and rounded at the shoulder.

The "guitar look" has a few strings attached: $100-up price tags.

STILL ALIVE AND KICKING

ST. LOUIS—After Paul C. Calcaterra's name had appeared inadvertently in newspaper burial permit listings, he spent a busy day assuring his friends he was very much alive. Calcaterra is an undertaker. A typist in the office of vital statistics had copied his name from the burial permit by accident.

Conshohocken Is 'Bloomingest' Town

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa., July 15.—(INS)—Conshohocken is becoming the "bloomingest" town today—far as Easter lilies are concerned.

Although Easter came and went several months ago, flowers significant of that day were springing up in the town like weeds.

Frank Burton, of West Conshohocken, reported that he has one Easter lily with 37 blooms on it. Michael Capaldo, of nearby Bridgeport, says he has two plants with 27 and 24 blooms on them respectively.

Observers credited the extensive blooming to the recent freak, damp weather.
